A vintage-themed still life composition on a dark, textured wooden surface. In the upper left, a black vintage camera with a silver lens is partially visible. To its right, a metal telescope or rangefinder lies diagonally. Behind these items is an old, yellowed map with various place names and geographical markings. In the lower right, a small, round, brass-colored compass with a ring is positioned. A dark, semi-transparent rounded rectangle is overlaid on the bottom half of the image, containing the text 'woodart' in white.
